El Camino Real Widening Here Waits on PWA

Rolison Hopes Buying Of Right-of-Way May Go Ahead

Efforts to secure funds for the widening of El Camino Real through Redwood City hinge at the present time upon the setting up of a national authority to handle the $4,880,000,000 public works program, City Manager E. A. Rolison reported today, following conferences with Earl Lee Kelly, chief of the state department of public works, and Col. John H. Skeggs, division engineer.

California has been allotted $39,000,000 of the $400,000,000 set aside for highways, streets, roads and grade crossings, Rolison said, in declaring that his efforts at present center on securing Redwood City's share of the fund.

As federal moneys will not be made available except on highways on which rights of way have been secured, Rolison was informed by Skeggs that Redwood City's action in deciding to use the state gasoline tax moneys for this purpose is along the right line.

$35,000 EXPECTED

An estimated $35,000 will be on hand for this purpose during the next biennium if the cities' plea for a one-half cent gasoline tax share is granted by the legislature. The city would not be required to wait for this money but could borrow it from the state on anticipated revenues, Rolison said, so that acquisition of rights of way could proceed at once. Rolison said he expects that work will be underway this summer.

Just how far the $35,000 will go toward securing the rights-of-way cannot be told at this time, Rolison said, as this matter is in the hands of the state. It is Skeggs' plan, Rolison said, to proceed from the northerly city limits and to go as far as Broadway, if p... in the first work to be done on El Camino Real.

WOODSIDE ROAD, TOO

Rolison is also at work on a plan to see the early beginning of work on the Woodside road concrete culvert project.

He is awaiting allocation from the 4,880 million dollar program of funds for materials to go along with SERA labor and the city and county's contribution of $14,000 toward material purchases.

If there is no hope of federal funds for materials, Rolison said he might begin the project shortly with SERA labor and using the $14,000 from the city and county budgets. This work would be undertaken from El Camino Real westward.

Delay on the project has been made necessary by Rolison's desire to preserve the city and county funds until the 4,880 million dollar program has been worked out in detail so cities may know what to expect, he said.

500 ON HAND TO SEE NEW INNOVATIONS FOR KITCHEN

Miss Barbara Miller Reveals Secrets To Wives

Redwood City women—500 of them—attended the opening session yesterday of the Tribune's Free Cooking School at the McKinley auditorium. Tomorrow at 2 p.m. the school enters its third day. Preceeding the regular school at 1:30 p.m., there will be three short talkies.

Flanked by refrigerators and stoves mounted on the stage, Miss Barbara Miller, home economics expert, conducted the cooking demonstrations .She stood before a table piled high with feminine paraphernalia—egg beaters, pitchers, pans and cooking materials—and with clever illustrations of scientific cooking methods brought the latest culinary innovations to local housewives.

Over 200 loaves of bread were given away "after school," and valuable merchandise, the finest type of cooking materials, was also distributed to the audience.

The recipes demonstrated at the school this afternoon will be found on page 9 of tonight's Tribune. Each night this week The Tribune will carry the recipes, valuable additions to any housewife's cookbook, demonstrated at the school that afternoon.

Tomorrow and Friday the cooking school will continue at the McKinley auditorium at 2 p.m. Each day valuable merchandise will be given away.

PENINSULAN WINS LONDON LIBEL ACTION

Film House Will Pay 'Substantial Sum' To Art Expert

LONDON, May 8 (U)—Gaumont Pictures Corporation and two other companies will pay a "substantial sum" in libel damages to Prof. Arthur Upham Pope, Persian art expert of San Mateo, it was announced in the courts today.

The sum is in settlement of a suit by Pope for damages on the ground that the companies erroneously said he vouched for the accuracy of settings and costumes for a motion picture film of "Chu Chin Chow."

Habeas Corpus Won Against Daly City

Release of L. E. Preston on $50 cash or $100 surety bail from the Daly City jail was ordered yesterday by Superior Judge Maxwell McNutt after Preston had petitioned the court for a writ of habeas corpus. Preston had been jailed on a charge of soliciting in Daly City without payment of a $75 annual license fee, which he charged was illegal.

Preston was ordered to appear in court Monday at 10 a.m. to determine the matter.

Kellogg Halts Workers' Pay And Materials

4-5th Vote Needed To Oust Scott, Comba Says

While the county was again set for a court decision next Monday on who is rightful holder of the county engineer's office, Attorney Fred Comba, on behalf of Carl Scott, today charged that the engineer's office was faced with a partial shutdown in activity unless it could secure approval of requisitions for labor and materials.

County Executive Walter Kellogg, holding that Urban S. Marshall is the engineer by virtue of his appointment a week ago Monday by the majority members of the board of supervisors, refuses to honor claims presented by Scott.

As a result of this, 13 per diem laborers, with claims averaging $35 each for work last month, can not get their pay, and two requisitions, one for $161 worth of materials and one for $27.40 for transportation, can not be paid, Scott charges.

Kellogg confirmed the fact that he had refused to honor claims, although disclaiming knowledge of as many as Scott says are due.

The claims are for work and materials purchased last month, but because Scott did not approve them until April 30, the day after his removal from office by the majority board members, Kellogg says he has no alternative but to hold up payment until the court decides who is the lawful engineer.

Meanwhile Attorney Comba said he was still contemplating what action to take to assure continuance of Scott in office. He declares he believes the charter specifies a four-fifths vote of the board is necessary to oust an official, and expressed confidence Judge Maxwell McNutt would so hold when he hears the case Monday.

The case was put up to the court yesterday by Marshall, who, through Attorney Joseph J. Bullock, secured an alternative writ of mandate ordering Controller Edward M. Stack either to pay Marshall for his April 30 salary or show cause in court why he should not pay it. On District Attorney Gilbert Ferrell's advice, who will defend the controller, Stack elected to appear in court.

PENINSULAN RESCUES MAN FROM SURF

Because one man in a crowd of 400 knew how to resuscitate a drowning person through artificial respiration, Manuel Soares, 21-year-old San Jose youth is alive today after a narrow escape from drowning in the Santa Cruz surf.

Young Soares today gave full credit to Charles A. Syverson, Ringwood road, Menlo Park, for saving his life in a near-tragedy on Sunday. Syverson, an employe at the U. S. Veterans' Administration Facility, revived Soares when the youth was brought to the beach in a serious condition from submersion.

Syverson has been scoutmaster of the Belle Haven troop for the past three years and has been interested in all forms of first aid treatment.

"Although I have never had occasion before to resuscitate a drowning man, on Sunday I remembered the instruction we received recently from Chief Thomas Cuff of the Menlo Park Fire District," Syverson said. "He said that in the event of an emergency, such as this episode, the most difficult thing is for the trained man to take the initiative. I did the best I could for Soares."

Kurucz Surrenders On Battery Charge

SAN MATEO, May 7—John Kurucz, 51, San Mateo gardener, surrendered himself to San Mateo police today and was charged with battery on complaint of W. E. Jones, retired, of Black road, Hillsborough, who said Kurucz threatened his life and hit him in the face with a brick yesterday.

Kurucz was to appear for a sanity hearing in supreme court. Several months ago the gardener was released from Agnew State Hospital.

FORD SITE SOLD FOR 26c ACRE

Beauty Spot of San Diego Expo Commands Views of Mexico, City and Ocean

Sixty-seven years ago, one Fr. Heston, of San Diego, sold the site of the Ford exhibits at the California Pacific International Exposition, opening May 29, for 26 cents an acre. Now that site is the commanding view in beautiful Balboa Park where the Exposition will be held.

Eighteen miles to the south of the promontory from which the Ford Building will loom, may be seen Old Mexico. To the west is the Pacific Ocean and in it, Coronado Isle. Slightly to the north stretches the famous Silver Strand and in the nearer background, the city of San Diego itself.

It was Juan Rodriguez Cabrillo who was the first white man to set foot on Point Loma and Senorita Florenz Kelton de Almada, a third generation Spaniard, is a descendent of those earlier conquerors of Southern California. In the accompanying photo she is shown looking out over the city from the Ford site.

Construction work on the Ford Exposition Building, in which the Ford exhibits will be housed, is proceeding rapidly as the concrete for the huge structure is being poured simultaneously with the building of replicas of the roads of the Pacific and the Music Bowl.

The Ford Exposition will carry out the theme, from earth to motor car, and also exhibit the exacting tests employed in the making of the car and its parts.

Sees Where Ancestors Landed

The senorita in this photograph is Florenz Kelton de Almada of San Diego. She is shown here looking out from the promontory in the California Pacific International Exposition grounds on which, on the opening date, May 29, the Ford Exposition will greet the public with an exhibit housed in a great circular building surrounded by terraces on which will appear replicas of famous roads of the Pacific. Senorita de Almada is framed by the steel work of the Ford Building and in the background are the skyscrapers of San Diego.

HAWAIIAN VIGNETTES

I

By Frances Parkinson Keyes

Why should I hesitate to write about something beautiful merely because so many persons have written about it before? The terror of becoming bromidic has never deterred me from confessing that I love my children, that I would rather read than eat, that I am cowed by headwaiters, that I detest early rising, and that all makes of motor cars look much the same to me, provided they are of approximately the same vintage. So I shall run true to form and proclaim to all and sundry that landing in Honolulu is not only one of the most unique but one of the most thrilling experiences that can fall to the lot of any traveler!

The sun is already bright and warm by the time you have turned into the harbor—there is no reluctant struggle to irritated consciousness in a dim gray dawn. Diamond Head rears itself ruggedly against a radiant sky; the crested waves are breaking over the hard white sands at Waikiki; all the verdant landscape is overspread with loveliness; and as the happy wanderer stands gazing out upon this manifold miracle, a jocund little boat comes springing across the blue water towards the "luxury liner", a jovial throng suddenly surges over the deck, and the visitor is engulfed with wreaths and welcome.

One after another the leis are flung around a willing neck, until shoulders begin to sag under the scented burden: ginger, plumaria, carnation—which is the sweetest? Is soft blue fairer than shell-pink, is magenta more magnificent than either, is creamy white most richly lovely of all? How soft they are to the touch, these iridescent blossoms, that crush to bruised fragrance beneath your caressing fingers; and yet how firm in fiber are the cords on which they are strung! It is no iron hand concealed within a velvet glove that is extended to you in welcome when you reach Hawaii. It is a wreath of flowers on a strong chain, symbolic as a wedding ring, a circle that has no beginning and no end, linking the Islands to the Mainland and the Mainland to the Islands, so powerfully and so poignantly that there is no sense left of division between these correlated parts of a sovereign whole.

A sound of music begins to swell as the ship glides smoothly to the dock. A uniformed band, stationed at ceremonious attention on the pier, is playing Aloha. For a moment you feel your eyes blurring—no other harbor has ever given you such a welcome—no other harbor ever will. Then you shake the stinging tears from your eyes, and smile again, and go ashore to all the bounty and beauty and brilliance that awaits you there.

But you do not take off your leis. You wear them all day long. And when at last you retire for the night, weary but happy, you encircle yourself with them still: you wreath them about the bedposts, murmuring to yourself, in pleased reminiscence, some verses that were dear to you when you were a child:

"Four corners to my bed,
Four angels at my head—
Matthew, Mark, Luke and John
Blessed the bed that I lie upon."

But you have a new version of this now; and as you drift off to untroubled slumber, you say it over and over again:

"Four corners to my bed,
Four angels at my head—
A blessing comes and a blessing stays
When my bed is wreathed with fragrant leis."

II

By Frances Parkinson Keyes

As you sit basking in the dappled sunshine underneath the pergola of banyan at "the most beautiful hotel in the world", its pink stucco walls and ledges adorned with great sapphire-blue jars, towering behind you, the white sands of Waikiki extended at your feet, the crested waves just beyond them, you register a vow that you will permit nothing to uproot you from this place of enchantment and peace. And after you have lunched copiously on crab and chicken, breadfruit and Italian salad, pineapple-cream pie and iced coffee, you sink into such a state of contented coma that you feel certain nothing could!

But after all something suddenly stirs within you, and presently you have been pricked and prodded out of your sense of satisfied torpor and galvanized into reluctant action again; you become conscious that Pele, the great goddess of Kilauea, recenly roused from her long slumber to fiery passion, may, at any moment, sink into satiated somnolence again. And if that should happen before you have gazed upon her in all her glory, if because of your own contemptible languor you should miss the opportunity of standing spellbound at her fiery shrine, there would be nothing left for you but a long penance of self-reproach and self-pity!

So very early the next morning—so early that there are only two quiet swimmers in the dark surf and Diamond Head is still unlighted with a golden glow—you get up and drink your coffee on your lanai; and then you go through a silent city, that looks spic and span and scrubbed, as if it had just emerged from a stinging shower, but had not yet breakfasted and gone its singing way to work. On the other side of it you come to a spacious airport, very spic and span and scrubbed too; but here everyone has breakfasted and gone to work; and presently a silvery hydroplane begins to scurry self-importantly around the runway; and then, in a minute, you have clambered into it, you are skimming instead of scurrying, you are soaring instead of skimming, you are sweeping out to sea—

The city, the beach, the mountains—you leave them all behind. There is a swift passage from channel to channel, the velvet mountains of Molokai at your left, the sloping shores of Lanai at your right, a swift swooping turn and you come down at the Maui airport. The hatch is opened, the hot sunshine pours down, the engine keeps on running—surely you are going to stay only a minute! But you wait fifteen and are beginning to be conscious of the burn on the back of your neck and to wonder if you dare get up and close the hatchway, when a courteous Japanese who is among your fellow passengers observes your dilemma and does it for you. At last a leisurely gentleman appears, who must be a very powerful person since he can hold up a schedule so nonchalantly—but he does not look it! Then you are on your way again over one more channel—Alenuihana, the loveliest of all—before you begin to skirt along the Hamakua coast of Hawaii, the "Big Island".

You rise and dip above it for nearly an hour before the silvery hydroplane comes smoothly down at Hilo, the "Crescent City", and you come down to earth too, with dazed reluctance—having seen a celestial vision! Who can do justice to it in song or story? Certainly I cannot, for it would take the tongues not only of men but of angels! So I do not dare attempt to describe the somber splendor of the dark jagged rocks that rise starkly out of the sea; the sparkling effervescence of the foam that springs and swirls about them; the dazzling emerald of the cliffs beyond, the crystal clarity of the countless waterfalls that lace these, the lush countryside extending towards the horizon—

Again, as when the fragrance of leis first permeated my room, I thought, as I gazed down on all this of a cherished poem; not a childhood verse this time, but the song which a great bard sung to his love:

"Thou wast all that to me, dear,
for which my heart did pine—
A green isle in the sea, dear, a fountain and a shrine,
All wreathed about with fruit and flowers—and all the flowers mine!"

I felt that I had reached the "green isle in the sea—all wreathed about with fruit and flowers"; and I knew that I should find a fountain and a shrine waiting me there—the splendid shrine and the fiery fountain of the great goddess Pele!

Faulty Radio Held to Blame In Air Crash

Fifth Victim Dies As Missouri Ship Fall Probed

MASON, Mo. May 7 (UP)—The log of the demolished "Sky Chief," luxury night airliner of Transcontinental-Western Air, Inc., revealed today that its radio equipment functioned improperly almost from the time it left Los Angeles until it crashed in a pasture near here.

Five persons, including Sen. Bronson Cutting of New Mexico, perished in the accident. The fifth death, that of Mrs. William Kaplan of Los Angeles, wife of a Hollywood film company executive, occurred early today.

The log of the $90,000 airliner was introduced in testimony at today's session of the inquest. A witness, Everett Wiggans, a grocer at Barnesville, near the scene of the crash, said he talked with one of the passengers, who told him:

"'Those damned radios — you can't depend on them'."

The log related trouble with the radio throughout the trip which started Sunday night at Los Angeles and ended in a fog at 3:30 a.m. yesterday.

Under the heading "Los Angeles to Albuquerque leg" was this entry:

"Radio will not work on night frequency."

Under "Albuquerque to Kansas City leg" were these entries:

"Radio transmitter out. Two-way receiver very weak. Starter button sticks in. Right engine requires two inches more manifold pressure."

Speakers will be Frank C. MacDonald, president of the California Building Trades Council and chairman of the California State Industrial Accident Commission, and Professor W. H. Hand, Stanford University political science instructor.

Boat Trip Thrills Junior Farmers

Everything from stock raising to bridge raising--and the world's two greatest bridges, at that--occupied the time of farm youngsters from this area at the recent Junior Livestock Show in San Francisco.

Upper photo shows a group of Future Farmers and 4H members on the top deck of the steamer, "Hayward", which was chartered by Safeway Stores to give the youngsters a close-up of the huge Golden Gate and San Francisco-Oakland bridge construction projects. Free meals and entertainment were provided on board the boat, while engineering experts described interesting details of the work through loud-speakers installed for the purpose.

Safeway Stores were also among the largest purchasers of prize animals exhibited at the Show. In addition to John Grab's title-winner, the grocery company bought 91 selected animals, including cattle, lambs, and hogs.

Oak Remedy Draught Nearly Kills Man

SAN MATEO, May 7. — Poison oak remedy is to be used externally, not internally, Jack Higgins, 50, of San Mateo, discovered after he had his stomach pumped out at the Mills Memorial Hospital yesterday.

Higgins drank a lotion that was supposed to be applied to the skin. Rapid action on the part of doctors saved his life. He denied he had taken the lotion with suicidal intent.

SUPERVISORS BACK ALVISO HARBOR PLAN

San Jose Board Puts Itself on Record For Proposal

SAN JOSE, May 7.—San Jose's deep water port project received the endorsement of the Santa Clara County Board of Supervisors yesterday, Supervisor C. P. Cooley of Palo Alto casting the only dissenting vote.

The resolution, drawn by District Attorney Fred L. Thomas was adopted on the motion of Supervisor Joseph M. McKinnon. The endorsement backs the San Jose city council, the deep water port association, chamber of commerce, and other civic groups in their efforts to secure PWA allocations for construction of the port.

BOUNDARIES STUDIED

Advisory and executive committeemen of the port district met yesterday noon at the De Anza hotel and listened to protests from a delegation representing land north of the Bayshore highway and east of the Lawrence road. This is an unincorporated area.

Attorneys representing the growers declared themselves "100 per cent in favor of the port" but could see no logical reason why this area should be included in the district.

Port officials decided to hold a meeting Thursday morning at 10 o'clock to again consider the boundaries.

Wasp Waists Return For Silver Jubilee

LONDON, May 7 (AP)—Fashions as old-timers are becoming reminscent in anticipation of King George's silver jubilee celebration Monday.

With the curves and tight lacing of 25 years ago, style leaders among England's loyal womanhood look as if they had stepped from the pre-war pages of the empire's history.

Petticoats are back, too, and the stylish accession day celebrant will have a rustling layer of them beneath her jubilee frock. Many ball frocks will be one plaid taffeta, velour, velvet or spotted muslin like those of 1910 debutantes.

Processed commodities distributed here by the SERA during April, according to Capt. L. G. McAloney, county relief director, included 5676 cans of beef; 2163 cans of peaches; 1998 cans of milk and 1850 cans of mutton.

Fruits and vegetables were distributed as follows: beets, 163½ pounds; grapefruit, 404 pounds rhubarb, 296 pounds: spinach, 88 pounds and lettuce, 219 pounds.

Among the articles produced by SERA workers were 312 dresses, 124 gowns, 338 jeans, 117 mattresses (double and single), 224 pajamas, and 425 shirts. The workers also made 408 towels and 133 quilts.

Total relief expenditures for last week, according to McAloney, totaled $18,250.88. Persons working for the SERA numbered 1220 in the county.

A large quantity of fresh grapefruit still remains in the San Mateo County Emergency Relief offices, the director declared, and is available to all persons eligible for relief. People should get their quota at once as the fruit, of which the county was alloted a carload, is perishable, McAloney stated.

Automobiles and other gasoline engines in Brazil are under government decree to burn fuel containing 10 per cent alcohol.

Cigaret Is Believed Cause of Car Fire

Fire that broke out at 3 p. m. yesterday in an automobile belonging to the state department of public works when the machine was parked in front of the county courthouse was quickly extinguished by the local fire department. Holes were burned in the upholstery and cushions of the car. A smouldering cigaret, firemen believed, was the cause of the fire.

Mail Increase Here Is Slight

Federal Agents Start Cleanup in Denver; Three Arrested

While many local people were receiving chain letters calling for from 10 cents to $1 to be sent the top name of a list of five or six, the Redwood City Postoffice reported that business today was but slightly heavier than normal.

At the rate business had started to increase last week, it was feared additional clerks might have to be employed in the near future but the point reached is far from where this expedient will have to be resorted to, it was said today.

A similar condition was reported in San Francisco, but in Denver, Colo., where the fad started, the condition has become so serious that the federal government has confiscated at least 1200 chain letters, the United Press reported, in a drive to halt racketeering in this latest "share-the-wealth" plan.

Three men, charged with using the mails to defraud, have been arrested and released on their own recognizance after pleading not guilty to the charges. They were the first arrested since the chain letter craze started in Denver several weeks ago.

The three men allegedly started a series of chain letters which would have netted them and their families approximately $750,000, Nelson charged.

POUR POSTOFFICE CEMENT

SAN MATEO, May 8.—The first bucket of cement was poured today for the $85,000 postoffice under construction in San Mateo. Excavation for the foundation is completed.

African lungfish have the power of filling their airbladders and burying themselves in mud, thus escaping the effects of prolonged drouth.

A tire guard attached to the inner side of the wheel eliminates danger of a blowout. This device consists of a hubless, spokeless inner whell, slightly smaller in circumference than the inflated one. It is designed to take the drop created by sudden deflation and keep the car on the road.

Inflationary Measure Wins; Veto Foreseen

TWO BILLION WILL BE NECESSARY IN PAPER

WASHINGTON, May 7 (IP)—The senate today, in face of a certain veto, passed the Patman bill to pay off the soldier bonus immediately with a $2,200,000,000 issue of "greenbacks."

The house passed the inflationary bill by an overwhelming vote earlier in the session.

Administration leaders said they believed the senate would sustain the veto, which President Roosevelt has promised to give the Patman measure.

Passage of the bill came after a series of preliminary votes at which the senate showed its preference for the Patman bill over other compromise plans.

Earlier today the senate had scrapped the administration's bonus compromise plan and expressed a preference for the Vinson-American Legion bill for full cash payment.

CLASH FEARED

Rejection of the compromise offered by Senator Pat Harrison (Democrat, Mississippi) made inevitable a clash between the White House and congress on the bonus issue.

On a motion to substitute the Vinson bill for the compromise plan, the Vinson measure won by 54 to 30.

During debate Harrison said that his bill was the only bonus measure which would escape a presidential veto.

Informal Talks Given At Teacher Meeting

With more than 200 teachers present, the dinner and open meeting Monday, at the Sequoia high school cafeteria of the governing council of the San Mateo County Teachers Association developed into an informal gathering when the speaker of the evening failed to appear.

Dr. Edwin Lee, San Francisco superintendent of schools, was forced to cancel his engagement to speak, and a substitute speaker, Prof. E. A. Rogers of the Montezuma Mountain School, did not appear because of a misunderstanding over the date.

However, several of its own members addressed the association. County School Superintendent Pansy Jewett Abbott, Charles Morris and Dorothy Jones discussed school and junior college legislation, and Warren Natwick spoke on "Talens Art Course."

Marie H. Traynor, secretary, announced that the financial condition of the association was excellent.

$5192 DAMAGES SOUGHT

Damages of $5192 are sought by Mr. and Mrs. George L. Kniveton, through Attorney Norman S. Menifee, in a suit filed in superior court today against Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Smith. The suit resulted from an automobile accident April 18 at the Brewster avenue-King street intersection.

Automobile manufacturing, automobile touring, and automobile operation and maintenace contribute more than fifteen billion dollars annually to the national income.

PIE whenever you want it—

if the pie-crust is made with Crisco, the quick-digesting shortening

Pie? Say, dear, why do you tempt me?
Don't worry, dear. This pie crust will agree with you. I made it with Crisco, the fat that digests quickly.

Miss Barbara Miller, well-known cooking expert who conducted the recent Cooking School sponsored by The Tribune, uses and recommends CRISCO, the modern, uickly-digesting shortening.

Pie whenever you want it? Sure, IF the pie-crust is made with Crisco. For Crisco pie-crust doesn't work the stomach overtime—Crisco is a pure, creamy, light shortening that digests quickly.

Many folks who've had to watch their diets have written letters telling us what a change Crisco has made in their lives. They're eating pie like regular healthy people now that the shortening used for pie-crust is Crisco!

Turn out a lovely, flaky pie tonight—made by a tested Crisco recipe such as the dainty "Affinity Pie" recipe given below. No other shortening will do—Crisco is made from pure, wholesome oils by Crisco's own process. That's why it's so creamy. That's why it keeps sweet-tasting and "quick-digesting" for weeks and months!

AFFINITY PIE

¾ cup sugar
2 tablespoons flour
2 tablespoons cornstarch
¼ teaspoon salt
2 egg yolks, beaten
2 cups scalded milk
grated rind ½ lemon
2 bananas, sliced

Mix sugar, flour, cornstarch, and salt thoroughly. Add egg yolks and milk. Cook and stir over low heat (or in double boiler) until very thick and smooth. Add lemon rind. Remove from heat. Chill. Use baked shell of Digestible Crisco Pastry (see Master Recipe at right). Cover bottom with sliced bananas. Pour in cream filling. Cover top with—

Lemon Meringue: Beat 2 egg whites stiff. Add 4 tablespoons sugar and ½ teaspoon lemon juice. Place pie in slow oven (325°F). Bake until meringue is golden brown.

CRISCO PIE-CRUST
(makes one 2-crust or 2 single-crust pies)
2 cups flour
1 teaspoon salt
⅔ cup Crisco
6 to 8 tablespoons cold water

Sift flour and salt. Then cut in Crisco (the creamy, fluffy shortening that's wholesome). Cut in Crisco coarsely if you like a flaky crust—cut in Crisco finely if you like a mealy crust. Add only enough water to hold mixture together. Roll ⅛ inch thick on lightly floured board.

For baked shell, cover an inverted pie-plate very closely. Trim dough so you can fold it double at edge. Crimp edge. Prick bottom and sides well. Bake in hot oven (450°F.) 15 minutes.

For two-crust pie, brush lower crust with melted Crisco to prevent filling from soaking in. Bake in hot oven (450°F.) for 10 minutes—reduce to moderate (350°F.). Bake until filling is done.

Three Youths Attack Golf Club Employe

Three young men who set upon and severely beat Ralph Garcia, caretaker of the El Camino Real Golf Club near San Bruno, were being sought today by sheriff's officers.

According to Garcia, who is suffering a fractured collar bone, bruises and abrasions, the trio were found near the 17th hole of the course. They apparently were lying in the deep grass to appropriate golf balls driven their way by golfers. Garcia ordered the men to get off the course. whereupon they turned on him and beat him.

Nashville Holds Man On Bad Check Charge

SAN MATEO, May 8.—Dr. J. W. Melville, wanted in San Mateo on a charge of passing fictitious checks, was arrested yesterday in Nashville, Tenn., by federal "G" men who claim that he is a polygamist, San Mateo police learned today.

Melville allegedly persuaded Jennie Hall, San Mateo waitress, to endorse and cash a $20 check for him in March, 1934. By the time the waitress learned the check was bad, Melville had left San Mateo—with the $20, police said.

Bullock Seeks Writ Ordering Marshall's Pay

Ferrell Remains Silent During New Move In Engineer Case

Urban S. Marshall Tuesday took his fight to obtain possession of the county engineer's office to court.

Through Attorney Joseph J. Bullock, Marshall petitioned the superior court for a writ of mandate to instruct Controller Edward M. Stack either to pay him his salary for April 30 or show cause in court Monday why the salary, at the rate of $400 a month, should not be paid.

Stack elected to have the matter settled in court. As a result, Superior Judge Maxwell McNutt will hear the case Monday at 10 a. m., unless a continuauce to afternoon, which Attorney Bullock said he would request, is granted.

In his petition, Marshall expressed the belief that he was rightfully the engineer as the result of his disputed appointment a week ago yesterday. He stated that he had been carrying on the duties of the engineer to the best of his ability, and should be paid for his April services, now due.

WILL SETTLE ISSUE

If the court rules that Stack pay Marshall the salary requested, the controversy over who is engineer of San Mateo county will be settled.

Meanwhile Carl R. Scott, who Saturday dropped a fight he had launched in court to prevent establishment of Marshall as engineer, was continuing his work today while Marshall, refused keys to the engineer's office by Scott, was concentrating his efforts on the Redwood Harbor project.

The move by Marshall, threatened yesterday by Attorney Bullock unless Scott capitulated, came while Scott and his attorney, Fred Comba, were supposedly considering further action in court.

The fact that Marshall has taken the matter to court would not give him the advantage, but Bullock expressed confidence today that he was on the right track and would be declared rightful holder of the county office, from which Scott was ordered removed by County Executive Walter T. Kellogg.

The removal and subsequent appointment of Marshall met the approval of the majority members of the board of supervisors—Chairman Manuel Francis and Supervisors Albert Witt and Walter High.

District Attorney Gilbert Ferrell, who will be called upon to represent Controller Stack in the Monday hearing, had nothing to say on the matter today, his office reported.

Stack today said, in regard to another matter that split Attorney Ferrell and the board of supervisors yesterday, that he would pay the $1080 appropriation for an automobile for Coroner William Crosby unless advised otherwise by Ferrell. Stack said that the appropriation was listed as an emergency one, and that consequently it would have to be paid. Ferrell told the board that their act was illegal.

1938 WORLD FAIR MOVES TO REALITY

S. F. Supervisors Ask Governor to Sign Shoals Bill

The 1938 World's Fair was a step nearer reality today, following action of the San Francisco Board of Supervisors at its meeting Monday.

The board first passed a motion, introduced by Supervisor Gallagher, directing Mayor Rossi and various city officials to confer on terms of a lease giving control of the shoals for the fair to the Bay Exposition Company.

Following that action, the supervisors passed a resolution submitted by Supervisor Shannon, one-time shoals opponent, formally endorsing the Yerba Buena shoals site and calling upon Governor Merriam to sign a bill under which the state will permit the shoals to be used for the exposition.

That bill, already passed by senate and assembly, is now before Merriam for final ratification.

Details of the lease to be signed with the Bay Exposition Company, of which Leland J. Cutler of Woodside is president, will be worked out by the mayor, the building and lands committee of the board, the city attorney and the director of properties.

In Washington yesterday, the house of representatives rejected resolutions authorizing the president to invite foreign participation in the San Francisco exposition and the Pacific Exposition at Los Angeles, both scheduled for 1938.

Cutler commented that the house's action "doesn't interfere with out plans for going ahead with the fair."

Scuffling action on the front tires resulting from improper toein causes them to wear rapidly, and it is therefore more economical to have front wheel alignment checked frequently than to buy a new set of tires.

TAKING CENSUS OF JOBLESS

General Hugh Johnson has a good suggestion for taking a census of the unemployed instead of spending $12,000,000 to $15,000,000 in the work. He suggests the enumeration be made on plans similar to those adopted for the draft in 1917.

Thus, on a designated day in every precinct throughout the nation every man or woman out of work would repair to a designated place and fill out the proper blanks previously prepared by the authorities.

The results cou'd be tabulated like the votes cast in an election and probably by the next morning the government would know exactly the number of jobless in the nation, where they were located and even whom they were.

General Johnson estimates theoutside cost of the whole proceedings would not be over $500,000.

The draft tabulation in 1917 in declared to have been 98 per cent correct by General Johnson.

Is there any reason why a like enumeration of the unemployed should not approach the same degree of accuracy?

MENLO PARK

Joan and Jean Van Epren, both aged 6, great granddaughters of Mrs. M E. Chapin of San Jose, were among those present at Mrs. Chapin's 95th birthday celebration held in San Jose, Tuesday. Mrs. Chapin has three daughters, 18 grandchildren and 12 great grandchildren, nearly all of whom attended the party.

Past Presidents' Association No. 9 was organized in the Hall of the Nativity last night. Past Grand President Margaret Hill and her staff instituted the association and installed the officers.

W. H. Weeden, accompanied by his family, will attend dedication ceremonies which the grand parlor officers of the Native Sons of the Golden West are holding in Livermore Sunday. Grand President Koenig will preside.

President Isabelle Weeden Lindquist, her children, Billy and Emma Roberta, and Mrs. F. Derry were among those from Menlo Park who attended the San Mateo County Council American Legion and Auxiliary celebration at Half Moon Bay Sunday. Other local people present were Mr. and Mrs. Loren Ross, Clarissa Ross, Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Blanchard, Barbara Blanchard, and Commanders Lee Williams and Bill Raithel, of Belle Haven and Menlo Park posts, respectively.

The posters made by local school children for the American Legion Auxiliary poppy poster contest are on display in the window of the Menlo Park Hardware Company. Mrs. W. J. Ryan was chairman of the contest. The judges included Comtesse Dmochowski and Margaret Williams, both artists, and Louise Clark, school teacher.

The contest was extremely successful and prizes will be awarded Tuesday, May 14, at 7 p. m. in the Legion Hall.

A baby boy was born last week to Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Beltramo. The youngster was the "first born" and brought great joy to the family. The proud father is receiving the congratulations of his many friends.

A government store may be established in Menlo Park. This possibility was seen when a representative sought signatures this week for a petition requesting such a store be organized. Citizens may barter at the institution, receiving merchandise for what they bring to the store. These groceries are established all over the East and are meeting with succes there.

It is rumored that the John Doyle property on Oak Grove avenue has been leased to a San Francisco hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. George Angus contemplate spending the summer at San Diego. They will rent their home here.

Wednesday evening the Palo Alto fire department used the Menlo Park drill tower for practice. The local fire department constructed the tower some few months ago at the request of Chief Cuff.

Sarah Fry has recovered from her recent illness.

Carmel O'Keefe and her friend, Ruth Rugaard, are visiting asquaintances in Seattle.

Catherine Maloney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Maloney, will be graduated soon as a professional nurse from St. Mary's Hospital. The young woman will practice in San Francisco.

Catherine Aylward will be married here May 15 to the pilot of a plane on which she is stewardess, flying between San Diego and San Francisco. The young couple will reside in Southern California.

Campus Play to Use Novel Staging Plan

"Yellow Jack," by Sidney Howard and Paul de Kruif, to be presented in the Stanford assembly hall Friday at 8:30 p. m., will represent a radical departure from conventional production methods.

Through the use of a revolving stage, which will have two levels, and an elaborate lighting arrangement, scene changes will be made with motion-picture-like rapidity.

34 ARRESTS MADE HERE IN MONTH

April Report Reveals Intoxication Caused 23 Citations

Thirty-four arrests, 18 of them for intoxication and five for drunken driving, were made by the local police department last month, Chief of Police C. L. Collins' monthly report to the city council disclosed last night.

Three arrests were on battery charges, two for petty theft and two for vagrancy. Four were for miscellaneous reasons.

Nineteen traffic law violators were cited during the month, which saw a total of 925 telephone calls and 144 radio broadcasts handled during the month. Twenty-one automobile accidents were reported to the police.

One slot machine operator, who was subsequently fined $100, was arrested in April.

BURLINGAME RULES AGAINST PEDDLERS

Only Citizen Veterans Allowed to Solicit On City Streets

BURLINGAME, May 7—A resolution designed to keep itinerant peddlars off the streets of Burlingame was passed by the city council last night.

The resolution, similar to the one proposed by veterans' groups, stipulates that a peddlar must have been a resident of the county for 30 days, must be a registered voter in the state, must have an honorable discharge from the marines, navy or army, must be unable to perform manual labor, and must wait three days for his permit after filing an application for a license.

At the council meeting it was disclosed that a mushroom propagation plant costing $10,000 and including eight buildings on a 500-foot highway frontage will be built by Karl Polder of San Francisco on the Bayshore highway at the northern city limits of Burlingame. A revocable license for Polder to construct the plant was voted.

It was also decided to have City Attorney John Davis investigate possibility of obtaining some $4,000 from the county for aid of the sewer project, and to investigate collecting a franchise tax from the Pacific Gas and Electric Company and the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company.

Whitworth Is Named State Court Deputy

George K. Whitworth, Menlo Park resident and San Francisco attorney who is well-known on the peninsula for his active civic and political work, has been named deputy clerk to the state supreme court, it was learned here today. Whitworth was formerly city attorney of Menlo Park.

Whitworth succeeds A. V. Haskell, deputy since 1920, who was elevated yesterday to the position of chief clerk, left vacant last week by the death of Isadore Erb, veteran in the office.

Habeas Corpus Writ Tests Law Validity

Maintaining that the Daly City ordinance levying a $75 annual license fee on outside solicitors is illegal, L. E. Preston today sought a writ of habeas corpus in superior court here. Preston, according to the petititon, is being held in the Daly City jail. Through his attorney, Joseph C. Myerstein of San Francisco, he asks his immediate release.
